

Prisoner Is Back In Jail

Torrance police beat the bushes for 45 minutes Tuesday during an intensive search for an escaped prisoner.

Jailers accidentally released Don C. Dennis, 31, of 25515 Lucille Ave., Lomita, about 3:15 p.m. They later found Dennis hiding in some bushes on Opal Street, a block from the Torrance Police Station.

The incident occurred when a bail bondsman came to the station to present a writ for the release of William E. Seward, 20, of 2020 Lomita Blvd., Lomita. The jailer called out Seward's name but Dennis stepped forward, signed the release, and walked out of the building.

BOTH SEWARD and Dennis were rebooked for conspiracy, adding to their original felony charges.

Dennis and his wife, Jackie, had been arrested Monday evening on suspicion of trying to pass a stolen check at a market. Mrs. Dennis had been released on a writ Tuesday morning.

Seward was in jail on charges of grand theft. He had been picked up at 12:45 a.m. Tuesday after a witness reported a car battery theft in progress. Police said Seward's car contained several batteries, stereo sets, cameras, a fur coat, and jewelry when the arrest was made.

College Teachers Earn Doctorates

"Good morning, doctors," Lewis Hiigel and Logan Fox, both El Camino College instructors, are now getting used to that title "doctor," since they completed the final work for their doctorate degrees this past summer.

Dr. Hiigel, music instructor at El Camino since 1964, received his Ph.D. in education from UCLA. Dr. Fox, who teaches psychology and is also a practicing psychologist off campus, has been at El Camino since 1963. He received his degree in educational psychology at USC.

One of the final qualifications for the doctorate degree is a written thesis about a subject related to the candidate's major field.

FOX'S dissertation was entitled "A Study of Relationship Between Grades and Measures of Scholastic Aptitude, Creativity and Attitudes in Junior College Students." The purpose of this study was to investigate some of the factors involved in the academic achievement of a select sample of students from one junior college in Southern California.

Most people working toward a doctorate degree in music, as was Dr. Hiigel, chose to do research in musical literature or a survey of current practices. Dr. Hiigel decided to do an experimental study on activities of the oral-physical structures and their relationship to performance on brass instruments.

HIS THESIS entailed a cinema-radiographic cephalometric study of "The Relationship Between Syllables, Tonguing and Pitch Control to Brass Instrument Playing." To accomplish this took three years of planning and research, using the facilities of medical labs to study orthodontics and speech pathology. Hiigel used professional musicians who performed a prepared score which was analyzed by means of film yielded data adaptable to computer analysis.

"This study enabled me to branch out in fields other than music," states Dr. Hiigel.

Devil Pickets Sunday School

A scowling "devil" has been picketing the South Bay Church of God Sunday School each Sunday to promote church school attendance. The devilishly costumed picket carries a sign which reads, "Don't Go to Sunday School!"

Rev. C. L. Tierney and Sunday School Superintendent Bert Richardson report that attendance has gone from about 400 to more than 450 since the devil made his appearance.
